I am blessed to have met Sandrine Hahn a few years ago. What started as a few ads to promote a chart and a dvd has turned into a full-blown make-over of my website and blog, including a new logo and re-branding. I have always loved and appreciated Sandrine's artist's eye and the beauty that she conveys in her work. I have also experienced her as professional, brilliant, creative and organized. Sandrine also manages the process, shepherds the project, and helps one stretch, opening new eyes when one can't yet see or visualize. A very talented individual. Check out my website, blog and FB page to see what I mean! www.simplybeingwell.com and www.simplybeingwell.wordpress.com I would (and do) recommend Sandrine to any one who would like beautiful, clear visual communication. I met Sandrine when I researched healthy eating option for children. We participated at the same Farmer's Market Tour in San Francisco 6 years ago. In subsequent meetings Sandrine impressed me as a passionate, compassionate and very bright young woman. What do I think of when I think of Sandrine? Creativity, integrity, open-minded, risk-taker, inquirer, communicator, thinker, caring. Beauty. Sandrine would be a wonderful asset to any organization. See less

I attended an art gallery displaying all Sandrine Hahn's photography art pieces a few years ago. I was floored and mesmerized by the vivid colors, intensity, drama, depth, power and energy of her work. She really knows how to transform things/objects/people we see as ordinary into extraordinary.

Sandrine's work is not only visually stunning, the object of each piece is given an opportunity to blossom and shine. Her exceptional ability to unearth the unique quality and beauty of her subjects allows them to bring forth their greatest gifts and tell their stories. Sandrine is truly a gifted artist and photographer. I highly recommend her services! She deeply cares about her subjects. See less

I've known Sandrine for many years, have seen much of her work (in several media) and have hired her for graphic design, web design, and photography. I've always found her to be a joy to work with, and have been consistently impressed by her originality, creativity and professionalism. I would jump at the chance to hire her again, when I have a need in any of these areas. See less

Working with Sandrine was a learning experience. She is a true inspiration. Sandrine single handedly initiated the San Francisco Chapter of the Weston A. Price Foundation. I have never met an individual as passionate as Sandrine when it comes to bringing ideas to life. Founding the Nourishing Our Children Campaign was a gift to the world. So many people in the US and around the world have been educated on how to nourish their children and themselves because of Sandrine's commitment. I feel extremely grateful to Sandrine for allowing me to be a part of her creation. See less

I have been a presenter for the Nourishing Our Children campaign for two years. Sandrine Hahn has created a very impressive organization in her commitment to educate the community about the benefits of traditional diets. Even more impressive is that Sandrine designed the very informative and professional website and presentation. It is a pleasure to work with Sandrine. She is highly motivated and enthusiastic about the need to educate parents to properly nourish their children. She is organized and has great communication skills. I am inspired by her tireless dedication to this important cause. See less

Sandrine is passionate about that which interests her. She is thorough, energetic, creative and totally immerses herself when intrigued and challenged. She is the person I would want to have on my team, if choosing sides!

Mario Repetto

Owner at Grindstone Bakery

February 28, 2010, Mario worked with Sandrine but at different companies

I've seen Sandrine work with passion, total commitment and integrity in the challenging task of promoting healthy traditional diets to improve the health of families and communities.

In spite of many obstacles she tirelessly created engaging graphic materials and obtained invitations to make presentations at many special events.

With her enthusiasm and creativity she inspired other members of her team and was able to motivate families to start the difficult transition to a healthy diet. See less

Tali Barr

February 28, 2010, Tali was a client of Sandrine's

Sandrine is a true artist, she does not compromise her values, her vision, the process and the outcome. The photographs are amazing quality and they capture an authentic present for years to come.

Cynthia King

Values-driven leader successfully implementing a spectrum of social programs using evidence-based tools and technology.

February 28, 2010, Sandrine worked with Cynthia in the same group

As a former board member of the NOC campaign I had the opportunity to see first hand how much time, passion and energy Sandrine has devoted to the group. She is devoted to communicating this information in a way that is compassionate, yet unyielding in the truth. The quality of the slide deck is extraordinary, and Sandrine was very careful to ensure that the quality of the message was very consistent. The Nourishing our Children Campaign is a wonderful step towards ensuring children receive nutrition and nourishment with their food. See less

Elizabeth Jameson

September 12, 2009, Bruce worked with Sandrine but at different companies

Sandrine is a great photographer with an eye for color and special images. This recommendation does not require much from me. All you need to do is look at her portfolio. Her work in Morocco is exceptional.

Monica Welty

Author/Performer at Beloved: A Story of Love and Loss

October 26, 2008, Monica was a client of Sandrine's

I love the website Sandrine designed for my business! She was willing to work closely with me in choosing every aspect and it is exactly how I want it. She is incredibly knowledgeable about the web development programs she uses, web technology, and hosting and so also gave me great guidance and many options for hosting and extra functions such as a hit counter and newsletter. She met my every request and also gave her opinion and suggestions which I think is unique and desirable in a web designer- someone who knows their stuff and is willing to blend the client's desires and needs with her own style and expertise. I highly recommend Sandrine's services and encourage you take time to visit her website to see my site and others she has created as well as her photography. Every time someone sees the Nia photos of me that Sandrine took, they tell me how beautiful the pictures are! See less

Sandrine has an incredible eye for beauty and composition. I love the way she captures natural colors with light and shadow. She sees beauty in the ordinary and make it extraordinary. Her portraits connect with both the moment the person is in and the essence of each person is also revealed. She photographed me teaching a Nia class (movement) and took some incredible photos that captured me beautifully in motion. My husband commented on how she was able to truly catch my passion and joy as I moved. I highly recommend Sandrine for any photography project you need! See less
